BICCHIERI PREMIUM | PREMIUM GLASSES

2013 Didier Dagueneau, Pur Sang, Pouilly-Fumé 65

The “Wild Man of Pouilly” learned to produce his wines like this single vineyard sauvignon blanc by watching some of the top producers in Burgundy. Pur Sang is barrel-fermented and aged in Dagueneau’s famous cigar barrels, and often referred to as a “Grand Cru”.

-flowers, herbs, grapefruit, crushed rocks-

2016 Thierry et Pascal Matrot Meursault Charmes 1er Cru 95

Thierry et Pascal Matrot converted to completely organic in 2000, in the process of doing so, it became one of the most benchmark Chardonnays in all of Burgundy.

The Meursault Charmes vineyard is considered the heart and essence of Meursault.

-dense body, almond skin, fresh pineapple, light honey-

2005 Marchesi di Gresy, Barbaresco Gaiun Martinenga 65

Marchesi di Gresy Barbaresco Gaiun Martinenga was founded in 1982 as a selection of a part of the Martinenga vineyard towards Asili and is produced only in the best years. Its slightly more international taste due to aging in small French wooden barrels has ensured remarkable successes. Remarkable is the structure that always coexists with that class and that elegance that only Martinenga knows how to give. This iconic vineyard is located in the village of Barbaresco, the epitome of elegance.

-fine tannins, dried cherry, clove, crushed rose petals, truffle, slight citrus-

1994 Château Pichon Longueville Comtesse de Lalande, Pauillac, Bordeaux 125

Chateau Pichon Lalande, known for its storied history and wines of sensuous texture which combine elegance, ripeness and exotic perfume, is one of the crown jewels of Pauillac and Bordeaux as a whole. A chateau with a unique female-dominated influence, Pichon Lalande's grand vin feature cabernet sauvignon at the forefront but utilizes a strong contribution from merlot, which in 1994 fared particularly well in a somewhat challenging vintage, making this outshine many of its peers.

-silky textured, cedar, spicebox, blackberry, tobacco leaf-

CHAMPAGNE

Récoltant-Manipulant | Grower-Producer - .

A relatively recent phenomenon in the history of champagne is the development of Grower-Champagne. These are récoltants, where 95% of the fruit must be estate grown and family owned as opposed to Champagne Houses that blend vineyards and vintages to create a consistent profile. There is beauty in both styles: the precision of blending cuvées from an array of vineyards to create a unique, timeless flavor or the strive to exemplify the soul of a specific place through vintages, also known as “terroir.”

Didier Dagueneau

This avid experimenter and self-taught winemaker virtuoso was recognized as the best in Pouilly-Fumé. Didier was the first to produce ageworthy barrel-fermented Sauvignon Blanc. Tragically taken from us far before his time, his daughter continues his legacy of making world-class biodynamic wines.

Barbaresco - La Spinetta

Giorgio Rivetti, owner and winemaker of La Spinetta, has led a resurgence of modern winemaking in Piemonte. Since La Spinetta's first Barbaresco production in 1995, they have been competing with even the most ripe and forward-styled New World wines. The Stardereri vineyard is all within the Neive district, where the best Barbaresco grapes grow. Here we focus not only on the Stardereri Vineyard but also numerous other selections from this craftful producer, showing both the power and the versatility of the nebbiolo grape.

Barbaresco - Produttori del Barbaresco

Founded in 1958, this cooperative consisting now of 56 growers is known as one of the highest quality coops in the world of wine production. Encompassing 250 acres of land, they comprise nearly 1/6 of all barbaresco vineyards. Supporting all 56 families and the local growers is part of the reason why Produttori del Barbaresco has achieved so much success. Here we highlight some of the single-vineyard production with a focus on the highest quality sites in Barbaresco.

VENETO

East of Lake Garda near the town of the same name, lies the wine region of Valpolicella. No less than four red wine styles have emerged from the same blend of the indigenous grapes rarely found anywhere else in Italy, Corvina, Rodinella, and Molinara. Valpolicella is a fresh, lighter style of wine meant to be drunk young. Amarone is made from grapes using a method called appassimento. The grapes are dried for 3 months on straw mats concentrating their flavors resulting in a bigger, bolder wine. Ripasso is the middle ground between Amarone and the young Valpolicella. The pressed grapes from Amarone are “refermented” in the young Valpolicella adding body and extract. Recioto is a sweet wine made with the same appassimento method, but not fermented dry like Amarone.

Brunello di Montalcino - Valdicava, Montosoli

The winery takes the name of the valley in which the greatest's single vineyards for Brunello di Montalcino are located. Valdicava is recognized for producing modern style Brunello that is powerful, concentrated, bold yet incredibly balanced on the palate. The Brunello production is of approximately 6,000 cases a year from which the winery makes a single vineyard Brunello Riserva called Madonna del Piano in addition to the Estate wine.

Brunello di Montalcino - Poggio Antico, Tavernelle

The development of Poggio Antico started in the late 1970's. Its style is traditional while embracing the technology of the new world to produce some of the most elegant wines in Montalcino. In 1983, Poggio Antico released Altero which is a modern style Brunello aged in French tonneaux that was required to be sold as a Vino da Tavola or IGT until 1999. Currently, many Brunellos are made in this fashion but none can compare to Altero.

Tenuta Dell'Ornellaia

The Ornellaia Estate was founded in 1981 and is located near the picturesque village of Bolgheri on the unspoiled Tuscan Coast. Bringing the styles of Bordeaux production to the epitome of quality for this now heralded producer. Winemaker Axel Heinz focuses on the full style and finesse of the Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot varietals while preserving the pepper and acidic style of Tuscan reds.

Tenuta Antinori

The Tignanello estate is home to the renowned Tignanello and Solaia vineyards. Located in the heart of Chianti Classico, the estate was built on a site that dates back to 1346. Piero Antinori began to tinker with the traditional Chianti formula – sangiovese blended with indigenous varietals, both white and red. He found himself abandoning it altogether in 1971 with the release of Tignanello, creating the first of the modern-day Super Tuscans.

SPAGNA

For centuries, the wines of Spain have been heralded for their balance and structure, as well as grace and elegance. The focus has mainly been placed on the regions of Rioja and Ribera del Duero – areas that produce regal wines from the noble Tempranillo grape, as well as Garnacha from Priorat. On the island of Mallorca, where Maria spent most of her life, Manto Negro and Callet are the primary grape varieties, producing silky and inviting red wines.

Greg Linn

“Our wines are an extension of myself: loud, uncompromising, and full of love and heart but mostly honest” says Greg Linn, who after years of collecting wine wanted to do something that was his passion. He opened Ambullneo Vineyards in 2000 and the '02 vintage scored a 95 point rating - the first in the Central Coast. Since 2006 he has been working under his own name and his production is as low as it has ever been. Linn's wines are the true definition of artisan - handmade, forming it from his palate requirements and leaving no stone unturned. They are new world but made using old world techniques like stem inclusion and no filtering of reds, similar to some of Greg's favorites like Domaine de la Romanée Conti, Domaine Leroy, Domaine Claude Dugat. Old world meets new world in Greg Linn's wines. The fruit is tamed and the earth tones added to connect the bridge from what was, to what is, in a unique and precise way.

MADEIRA: A PATRIOT'S WINE

Madeira wine was born in the cargo holds of trading ships destined for the New World and East Indies. Beginning 625 miles southwest of Portugal, on the steep volcanic slopes of the sub-tropical island of Madeira these wines were fortified to help stabilize them for their torna viagem. Aboard these ships, the wines were subject to extreme humidity, heat, and oxidation. The result was an indestructible wine that smells, tastes, and looked far different than it did upon its departure. This process is no longer done aboard ships but is replicated using more practical processes. Surprisingly, Madeira was once the most imported wine to United States.

These wines were drunk to celebrate many singular moments in the United States history, including the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Sercial, Verdelho, Boal, and Malvasia, from driest to sweetest, respectively, constitute the bulk of Madeira production. Other highly prized varietals include Moscatel, Terrantez, and Bastardo, but as none has been replanted since 1872, they are rarely seen. We have taken painstaking efforts to source these stunning wines from a few of the last remaining Madeira production companies in the world. Our deep Madeira selection allows you to sit back, relax, and travel back in time to enjoy a once in a lifetime after dinner accompaniment, much like many of our Founding Fathers. These wines will truly impress.

AMARI

“Vi posso offrire un amaro?” Or, “Can I offer you an amaro?” is the single most reassuring phrase to be heard at the conclusion of a restaurant meal in Italy. Amaro represents a loved excuse to prolong the eating experience among friends and family.

Amaro (Italian for "bitter") is an Italian herbal liqueur often originated in monasteries and pharmacies. Amaro is produced by macerating herbs, roots, flowers, bark, and citrus peels in alcohol, neutral spirits or wine, mixing the filtrate with sugar syrup, and allowing the mixture to age in casks or bottles.

GRAPPE

Distilled from pomace – the leftover grape skins, seeds, stalks and pulp from the wine press – was invented by Italian farmers to extract the last drop of value from their grapes and potent enough to get the farmers through the cold winter months. It was good at warming you up. For generations, Italians have sipped this "firewater" after meals and even added a little to their morning espresso, (café corretto) to "correct" it. Grappa was originally made in Bassano del Grappa – where it gets its name - a small town of Italy's northern Veneto region.

RYE WHISKEY

Rye whiskey was the prevalent whiskey of the northeastern states, especially Pennsylvania and Maryland, but largely disappeared after Prohibition. Now in an era where strong flavors are back in style, rye is enjoying a new golden age. It has to have a mash content of at least 51% rye and, if aged for at least two years in new charred oak barrels, it earns the moniker 'straight rye'.

BOURBON

American Bourbon is distilled once, then aged in fresh charred oak barrels. Bourbons impart a raw, sweet corn flavor due to the fact that bourbon is made with at least 51% corn. Small batch bourbons are made in limited quantities, aged six to nine years, and are characteristic of pre-prohibition whiskey, with strong, rich flavors, heat, and aromas.

SCOTCH WHISKEY

Die-hard aficionados swear that nothing is finer than a single malt with its characteristic regional flavors. Derived from malted barley Scotch is double-distilled and the malted barley is dried using peat smoke, imparting earthy, smoky, salty and oily characteristics, depending upon the region in which it is produced. Scotch is aged first in used bourbon barrels for at least three years.

Older, rarer Scotches receive additional aging in madeira, port, or other casks.

Scotland is split into five distinctive whisky-producing regions. The same basic process is used to produce whisky across the country but subtle variations mean single malts from each region have unique characteristics and flavors.

HIGHLAND

By far the biggest region geographically, the Highland malts inevitably embrace wide and robust flavor variations. Generally heavier and drier in character compared to other regions, whiskies from here often have nutty, honey, heather or peaty notes. Distilleries near the sea also have some salty, maritime influences in their malts.

ISLAY

Pronounced "eye-luh", this is the greatest of whisky-producing islands. It is only 25 miles long, but has no fewer than eight distilleries. It's covered in peat which is exposed to rain and sea spray. Harvested and used to malt the barley used in distilling, the peat gives the single malts here their characteristic smoky flavor with some salty, seaweed notes.

CAMPBELTOWN

Campbeltown, the small coastal town at the tip of the Kintyre peninsula, once boasted over 30 local distilleries but now has just three. Nevertheless, they are still considered by serious malt lovers to represent a distinct region in their own right.

Single malts produced here are noticeable for their briny character and some boast peaty notes.

LOWLAND

There are only a handful of Lowland distilleries still operating, producing softer, lighter style single malts that are traditionally known as the 'Lowland Ladies'.

Whiskies from here are known for their malty, zesty flavors with slightly fruity, citrusy and sometimes floral notes.

IRISH WHISKEY

The Irish may have been the first distillers in the British Isles and, for a brief period in the 19th century, Irish whiskey reigned supreme over its Scottish rival. Boom was followed by bust – and near extinction – but today the good times are back, with distilleries popping up all over the Emerald Isle.

It's no secret that Japanese whisky has taken the world by storm in the past five years, but it's far from new. When Masataka Taketsuru returned to Japan from Scotland in the early 1920s, having studied distilling, he, in essence, became responsible for the birth of Japanese whisky, including the Yamazaki and Nikka brands directly.

ARMAGNAC

Armagnac is a grape brandy produced in the Gascony region of south-west France, as it has been since at least the 15th century.

A fuller-bodied (some would say rustic) style of brandy when compared to Cognac, it is often aged for many years (decades in some cases) and makes an excellent digestif.

CALVADOS

Calvados, made almost exclusively in Normandy, is a cider spirit. Cider is made with specific apples or pears (some of them being very old varieties), and there are four types of apples used in cider making: sweet, bittersweet, bitter and sour. The quality of the cider depends upon the type of soil, the type of orchard and the pressing of the fruit.

For the past three centuries, Cognac has been almost universally recognized as the finest of all the spirits that are distilled from grapes. TEQUILA

The first use of tequila dates back 2,000 years ago to the Aztec people of central Mexico who used the fermented beverage during ceremonies & rituals. Considered now to have started in “Ancient Times” the potent spirit we now call tequila didn’t officially get its start until the 15th & 16th century when the first Spanish Conquistadors arrived in Mexico. Not long after arriving in Mexico the conquerors quickly ran out of their beloved brandy & began distilling the fermented juices of the agave into tequila.

The flavor profile of tequila is impacted by the region where the agave is grown – in the highlands or the lowlands. Due to differences in elevation and weather, the agave plants grown in each area create different tasting tequilas.

Highland agave plants are bigger and richer with a longer growing cycle, making the tequila sweeter and fruitier with floral hints. Lowland agave have a shorter growing cycle and give tequila an earthy and herbaceous flavor and are often spicier.

For the Mezcal the agave is cooked in conical pits dug into the ground. The piñas are cooked over a wood fire and covered in layers of agave leaves and earth. The piñas cook for two to three days. This process caramelizes the sugars in the agave, and imbues a smoky aroma and flavor to the agave, which carries over to the mezcal, giving it a smoky quality that reminds some of peated single-malt Scotch.
